

My name is Ed Miller, I attended and graduated Towson University in the state of Maryland. I was born in North Miami Beach and moved back to south Florida after I graduated. Since being back, I was the Athletic Director at Western School and University School of Nova Southeastern University School in Coral Springs before coming to Somerset.

I have been in athletics all my life attending Towson University on an athletic scholarship. I coached one year on the junior college level, and since have been coaching on a middle and high level. While at University School I won the district in Boys Flag Football twice, Girls Basketball Twice and Boys Basketball five times three back to back.

I hope to bring this winning attitude to Somerset's athletic program.
